

Peek Tells Manner in Which to Appeal From Adverse Flood Report

Col. E. D. Peek Says an Appeal May Be Taken to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors.

DAMAGES SMALL

Report Declares Flood Damage Too Small to Justify Federal Expenditures of Funds.

The notice sent out by Colonel E. D. Peek, Division Engineer, North Atlantic Division, stating that the U. S. Army Engineers who made an inspection of the Esopus valley last summer had reported unfavorably on an application for federal relief for flood control in the valley, states the manner in which appeal from that determination may be taken.

Residents of the valley and other Catskill mountain sections where annual floods do damage have long fought for some aid from state or federal government toward elimination of this annual menace. Those whose property is annually damaged have taken a deep interest in the matter and when the army engineers came into the Esopus, Rondout and other valleys earlier in the year it was hoped that the much sought relief would be recommended. However, the report of Colonel Peek puts an end to those hopes, since he states in his report that the examining engineers have filed an adverse report.

Colonel Peek's communication, which was sent out last week, and which will undoubtedly be followed by a more detailed report to Congress, follows:

Public notice relative to proposed improvement of Esopus, Rondout, Catskill and Schoharie Creeks, New York.

War Department
Office of Division Engineer
North Atlantic Division
Room 3708, 50 Broad Street,
New York, N. Y.
December 3, 1936.

Esopus Ch. 1-114

To Whom It May Concern:

1. It having come to the notice of the undersigned that you have expressed an interest in the pending proposition for the improvement of Esopus, Rondout, Catskill and Schoharie Creeks, and their tributaries, and the Neversink and East Branch of the Delaware Rivers and their tributaries, with a view toward the control of their floods, you are informed that the preliminary examination report thereon, authorized by Section 4 of the Flood Control Act, approved June 22, 1936, and by Public Law No. 468, 74th Congress, 2nd session, approved March 3, 1936, has been made by the division engineer and is unfavorable in that no further survey was recommended. The adverse conclusion is based on the grounds that the average annual flood damages within these basins are so small that they cannot justify economically the construction of flood protection works by the United States at this time.

Privilege of Appeal

2. You are further notified that all interested parties have the privilege of an appeal from this conclusion of the division engineer to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, a permanent body sitting at Washington, D. C., to which all examination and survey reports of this character are referred. Parties desiring to do so may be heard on appeal by the board, either orally or in writing. Written communications should be addressed to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Main Building, Washington, D. C., and should be mailed in time to be in the possession of the said board within three weeks from the date of this communication. If, however, you have important data to communicate to the board, which cannot be collected and put in shape for proper presentation within four weeks, the board should be informed of this fact without delay and request made for an extension of the limiting date for submitting information. If oral hearings are desired, dates for the same may be arranged for by correspondence with the board.

3. Any further information needed may be obtained by application to the division engineer or to the district engineer, United States Engineer Office, First District, 710 Army Building, 35 Whitehall street, New York City, but attention is invited to the following regulation as to the manner in which such information may be furnished:

May Knowledge Reports.

When interested parties desire data necessary for the preparation of their appeal to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, they will be afforded full opportunity to examine the copies of the reports of the District and Division Engineers to their respective offices, subject to the understanding that no part of the contents of these reports will be published in the newspapers or otherwise and that the reports have been submitted to Congress. Copies of the reports will not be furnished or loaned for use outside the office, but interested parties will be permitted to make such copies as they desire. District and Division Engineers will take proper precautions to ensure that these privileges are extended only to those having

Maritime Parley Holds Center Today In Strike Situation

(By The Associated Press)

Signs of progress in negotiations to settle the Pacific coast maritime walkout held the center of attention along the nation's strike front today. Coastwise ship operators and union spokesmen at San Francisco agreed to debate the strike issues publicly tonight. Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, said a break was indicated in the 49-day blockade of coast ports.

A demand by Judge C. M. Davison for Gov. Philip F. LaFollette to call out the militia marked the deadlocked strike of J. I. Case Company employees at Racine, Wis. Judge Davison asserted strikers failed to heed his injunction limiting the number of pickets at the plants.

Federal guard patrolled a New York WPA theatre project headquarters after employees protesting staff cuts launched a "sit down" strike.

Big Four railroad brotherhoods started a strike vote among 3,000 Santa Fe railroad employees west of Albuquerque, N. M. Wage increases for engineers were at issue.

While federal guard patrolled the halls and a police detail stamped the streets, employees of the Work Progress Administration's theatre project in New York city held stubbornly today to their protest "sit-down strike," in project headquarters.

Acting to show their opposition to orders cutting the staff of employees, about 125 workers spent the night in the project offices. Nearly 200 who picketed the sidewalks in support dispersed in the chill of early morning, after tenants of a nearby hotel (Lincoln) protested the noise was keeping them awake.

The guards were assigned after Lewis J. Valentine, police commissioner, said his officers would not eject sit-down strikers from federal property so long as they behaved themselves.

At Rochester, N. Y., efforts of the Teamsters', Chauffeurs' and Helpers' Union to organize truck drivers of the General Baking Company flared into violence early today when bricks were thrown through several windows of stores handling the company's products.

The brick-throwing episode followed the opening yesterday of a boycott against the company by the Broad Wagon Drivers' Union. It charged coercion of employees by the company, claiming in letters sent to merchants that the company had threatened to discharge any drivers who joined the union.

County Auditor Finishes Year With $20,471.42 Balance In Treasury

Sum Remains From Appropriation Amounting to $58,234.77; $40,000 Is Asked for 1937 by County Auditor Heaton

ELECTION COSTS

Commissioners of Election Present Bills for $644.48, Allowed; Supervisors to Reconvene.

The report of the county auditor for the year December 8, 1935 to December 4, 1936, was received by the Board of Supervisors Monday evening. During the past year County Auditor Heaton has expended the sum of $37,763.35 for supplies, repairs to county buildings, telephone, water and electric light bills and other county bills which come under the jurisdiction of the auditor's office. There was an appropriation amounting to $58,234.77 for the year and on December 4, 1936, the balance in the county auditor's fund was $20,471.42.

An appropriation of $40,000 was asked for next year.

In the TERA fund there is a balance of $809.47 and in the WPA fund $290.44. The balance in the TERA fund was transferred to the WPA fund by resolution of the board which referred the report of Mr. Heaton to the committee on County Auditor and the Committee on Appropriations.

Supplemental Report

A supplemental report was made by the committee on Town and County Accounts in which two bills of justices were reported. The bills were in addition to those which were reported earlier in the session. The bills were from Justice S. P. Carpenter for the sum of $16.75 and for the sum of $34.05. The bills were allowed and will be made a part of the original report of the committee.

A report of the committee on commissioners of election was received in which bills amounting to $644.48 were presented and allowed. The committee moved that the sum be assessed and levied on the county. Over under the rule.

Grand Jurors Committee

The committee on distribution of grand jurors made a supplemental report in which it was stated the committee had prepared a list of eligible jurors which has been certified by the clerk and would be deposited with the county clerk by December 10, as required by law. This is the first time that such action has been taken by the board. In prior years it has been customary for the county clerk to make up his list of grand jurors from a list provided him but one which was not forwarded to him under strict letter of the law. This matter was attacked in Sullivan county some time ago when the eligibility of a grand jury was questioned in a criminal case. At that time the court held that while the strict letter of the law had not been lived up to there had been sufficient compliance to make the list legal. Closely following the Sullivan county action the same proposition was brought up in Ulster county and the list was held to be reasonably close in compliance with the law. However in order to avert any future actions the list for next year will be in absolute compliance with the statute. The list contains, as certified by the clerk of the board of supervisors to the county clerk, the names and addresses as well as the occupation of each of the grand jurors from the towns and the city wards. The report of the committee was adopted and the list will be forwarded to the county clerk.

Tuberculosis Report

A report was made by the committee on Tuberculosis Hospital and Laboratory. The committee reported it had examined bills amounting to $185.26 and that all of the bills were found to be legal and proper bills against the county and the committee moved that the bills be paid.

Kingston Stores to Remain Open Nights Until Christmas

Kingston stores will remain open evenings beginning Monday, December 14, until Christmas in order to accommodate Christmas shoppers who need to do their shopping evenings. Most of the stores will remain open until 9:30 o'clock.

This action was determined at a recent meeting of the Uptown Business Men's Association when the majority of the store owners expressed a willingness to keep their places of business open beginning next Monday evening.

M. H. Herzog, president of the association, today stated that plans were being made for a regular celebration that evening with a band which will play throughout the evening in the business section. Already the business sections of town are taking on a Christmas appearance with many of the stores already decorated with Christmas greens, strings of colored lights and gay holiday merchandise.

Chilly Weather Keeps Pope Abed, Condition Better

Vatican City, Dec. 8 (AP).—Sudden chill weather ruined the hope of Pope Plus XI to leave his bed today and resume his full routine of active duty.

Despite continued improvement in the Holy Father's condition, Vatican officials said it was considered unwise for him to risk exposure.

The Pontiff's discontent was eased somewhat by holding a private Mass for him in the sick room. Monsignor Confalonieri, the Pope's private secretary, conducted the ritual at the bedside and the Holy Father took Communion.

After a noon visit Dr. Amintore Milani said he was thoroughly satisfied with his patient's progress and expressed the hope the Holy Father might be able to leave his bed Thursday if his improvement continues at the present rate.

His Holiness, recovering from a paralysis of the legs, was particularly disappointed because it was the day of the Immaculate Conception and its customary Mass.

The 79-year-old Pontiff unwillingly yielded to the insistence of his physicians that he consider himself still an invalid.

A verbal bulletin had indicated the Pope would leave his bed today.

Following three days of repose which have restored his forces, the spokesman said, "His Holiness is much better and probably will leave his bed for several hours today."

Dr. Milani (Dr. Amintore Milani, Pope Plus' personal medical adviser) remains very satisfied with the Pope's condition.

The bulk of worry and melancholy which hung over the Vatican during the three days of the Pope's illness was dispelled when citizens of the tiny papal state were told the Holy Father's condition was "much ameliorated."

The Pope rallied strongly yesterday and during the night from the paralysis of the legs which was first observed Saturday.

High blood pressure, asthma, uric poisoning, and hardening of the arteries was known to complicate his illness, but his obstinate refusal to permit a full medical examination left the exact cause of the affliction in doubt.

Prayers continued to be recited in all Roman churches. Some were in gratitude for the betterment already noted in the Pope's condition. Others were simply for his complete recovery.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP).—The position of the treasury on December 5: Receipts, $14,660,564.84; expenditures, $22,825,445.84; balance, $1,423,111,418.69. Customs receipts for the month, $7,704,008.34. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $1,708,502,878.20; expenditures, $2,382,688,025.75, (including $1,206,170,168.90 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $1,275,185,158.56. Gross debt, $22,829,261,942.31, a decrease of $439,731.75 under the previous day's total assets, $11,133,391,328.24.

Search For Plane

Dakar, Senegal, Dec. 8 (AP).—Rescuing planes and ships combed an ever widening area of the South Atlantic today in search of the mysteriously missing giant flying boat "Southern Cross." No word had been heard from the four-motored mailplane en route to Natal, Brazil, with a crew of five since 10:42 a. m. yesterday, four hours after taking off. Then, the noted aviator Jean Mermoz, piloting the ship for his twenty-fifth Atlantic crossing, radioed that one of the plane's motors had failed. He added, however, that weather conditions were excellent.

Direct Grants

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP).—Roosevelt administration officials announced today that 250,000 farmers in drought areas who are being discharged from relief jobs by the Works Progress Administration would be given direct money grants by the Reconstruction Administration. The office of Will W. Alexander, acting head of Reconstruction, said this plan had been agreed upon after a conference with WPA officials.

Philippines Suffer Worst Flood, Entire Villages Wiped Out

Manila, Dec. 8 (AP).—The peaceful farming valley of Cagayan was a devastated graveyard of untold dead today.

Flood waters of the mighty Cagayan river, largest in the Philippines, swept thousands to their death, official Philippine army advisers said, and left other thousands missing.

Officials, marshalling the commonwealth's relief agencies, expressed fear the full extent of what they termed "the greatest disaster the Philippines has experienced" would never be known.

Populations of entire barrios—suburban clusters of native huts—were wiped out. The river, swelled by the northern Luzon Island's heaviest rainfall, swept down the populous valley at 4 a. m. last Friday, trapping most of the victims as they slept.

Entire families were caught by the unexpected torrents, aftermath of a typhoon. They were carried, screaming, toward the sea. The unprecedented flood covered more than 100 miles of rich tobacco and rice farming lands northeast of Manila.

Fifty-four villages were known to be inundated. A large part of the area, most populous rural section on Luzon Island, had not been heard from.

The provincial military commander of Isabela fought his way through flooded and debris strewn areas for four days to send out the first word. He said it was the greatest flood in the history of the valley.

He reported the largest section of the valley, which stretches 50 miles across between two ranges of mountains, was yet to be heard from.

"Thousands of persons were carried away," he said. "Other thousands were reported missing."

House full of people, animals and trees were swept away and scattered toward the sea.

Twenty bodies were recovered in the village of Cagayan.

Officials of Ilacan reported it was impossible to get into Cagayan Valley, north of that city. Hundreds of houses were swept away and thousands were missing, they said.

Emergency supplies of rice, and vaccines against cholera and dysentery were urgently requested.

Premier Travels Over Icy Roads to Visit Monarch as British Empire Awaits Decision Breathlessly Tonight.

KING MAY FLY

Business Points Out That Delay Costs Industry Thousands of Pounds Daily.

London, Dec. 8 (AP).—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin reached Fort Belvedere this evening—summoned by his king—presumably to receive the final decision of Edward VIII on renunciation of either his throne or Wallis Warfield Simpson.

The premier travelled over the icy roads from London in an hour and 15 minutes to enter the gates of the Royal Lodge in the gathering darkness, while suspense hung heavy over London, England and the empire.

It generally was believed the decision, even if given tonight at Fort Belvedere, would be withheld from the public until Baldwin has an opportunity to communicate it to Commons.

If the answer is abdication, the king might give the tip-off by quick flight from the country.

Edward's youngest brother, the Duke of Kent, was believed to have participated in tonight's crucial meeting. He drove alone to Fort Belvedere this morning. There also were reports that the motor car of the Duke of York, Edward's heir-presumptive, had been seen entering a side entrance of the estate.

Public Is Hopeful

Generally, in view of Mrs. Simpson's statement of her willingness to sacrifice the king rather than hurt the sovereign or the throne, the British public was hopeful its monarch had decided the crown comes first.

But there was no certainty, only breathless waiting.

Those who expected the king to give the first minister his final word tonight pointed out that every day's delay was costing the empire's industry thousands of pounds.

The vast amount of business pointed toward a coronation next May was at a standstill.

Edward, these persons said, would be as anxious as any of his subjects to return Great Britain to normal. Unless he has made up his mind, they asserted, there could be but little reason for another conference with Baldwin.

Plane Flies Channel

Before the first minister went to Fort Belvedere with advisers to both the king and his heir-presumptive, a privately chartered airplane flew the channel in treacherous weather from Crofton and finally wound up, near Marseille, France, for an overnight stop en route to Cannes.

Mrs. Simpson is at a Cannes villa. It was believed tonight that those in the plane were Theodore Goddard, of the firm which handled the granting of Mrs. Simpson's decree nisi from Ernest Aldrich Simpson; Sidney Barron, his clerk, and Doctor Douglas Kirkwood.

Goddard, it was reported, conferred last night with the king's solicitors and several officials of the treasury.

Under present arrangements, the divorce will become final automatically on April 27. It could be made final earlier.

Other, earlier, reports, said two home office officials and a physician occupied the plane. Apparently the passengers left the ship at Le Bourget, France.

In London, Queen Mary cancelled a scheduled afternoon visit to an exhibition of replicas of British and European crown jewels and other royal regalia at the Leicester Square Gallery. The opening then was postponed.

It was announced the cabinet expected to hold its regular meeting tomorrow, at 11 a. m.

With Baldwin were advisers to both the king and the heir-presumptive Duke of York, who summoned him hastily from No. 19 Downing street, his official residence, at 4 o'clock.

The first minister, instead of going to parliament, had awaited Walter T. Monckton, the king's legal adviser, and Sir Eric Mieville, the Duke of York's secretary.

They reached the official residence at 4 p. m. Monckton coming from Fort Belvedere. A few minutes later they departed. Monckton and Baldwin traveling in one car and Sir Eric following in another.

While they were inside No. 19 Downing street, several minor officials hurried out carrying brief cases and loaded them in the cars. Both machines headed toward Whitehall, which is on the route to Fort Belvedere, the king's country residence.

Confers With Brothers

At ice-glazed Fort Belvedere, the king was reported conferred with his brothers, the heir-presumptive Duke of York and the Duke of Kent, youngest of the four Windsor, possibly in a decisive conference. Baldwin, it was established, was en route there.

Earlier, a chartered airplane which

City Bid In About 250 Properties At Tax Sale Monday

Approximately 305 Properties Sold for Unpaid Taxes—City Forced to Bid in Three Breweries, Several Stores, Many Houses and Eagle Hotel.

City Treasurer C. Ray Everett on Monday sold at public sale approximately 305 properties on which the city taxes had not been paid this year, and of that number of properties the city was forced to bid in about 250, while 55 properties were bid in by private individuals and concerns. Among the properties the city was forced to bid in were the Eagle Hotel, the old Hoffman brewery, the Hauck brewery and the Batmann brewery properties. Several store properties were also bid in by the city.

The sale, which was held in the council chambers on the third floor of the city hall, was attended by about sixty interested people. Several properties were bid in by local loan associations to protect their interest while the other properties were sold to private individuals. The great majority of the properties offered, however, were not bid when offered for sale, and the city was forced to take them over.

The owners of the properties sold Monday have two years in which to redeem them.

He added:

"Mrs Simpson is enjoying her stay here. She likes Cannes very much."

It was evident to the watchers at the villa that the household atmosphere had changed from one of hostility to friendliness toward the press.

The secrecy which marked the first day's stay of the American visitor had virtually vanished.

Guards Talk Freely

Even the guards talked more freely—if somewhat hesitantly about Mrs. Simpson's exact movements.

Yesterday's announcement of Mrs. Simpson's willingness to forego her love for Edward VIII came as a startling climax to her flight from the storm center of the empire's constitutional crisis.

Friends said her decision was taken only after two telephone calls to the young monarch at his Belvedere estate, where she was his guest until she decided her absence might ease the situation.

The formal statement was announced by Lord Brownlow.

The outstanding impression here was the statement had been well received in all British quarters, enhancing Mrs. Simpson's popularity and clarifying the tense situation.

Hailed in international circles as "good sportsmanship," the statement was believed by many to be only a public expression of the free hand Mrs. Simpson gave the king long ago.

Lord Brownlow, repeatedly emphasizing that the statement was signed by Mrs. Simpson, made known her decision in a Cannes hotel room to a group of reporters.

"Mrs. Simpson," Brownlow read from the document, "throughout the last few weeks, has invariably wished to avoid any action or proposal which might hurt or damage His Majesty or the throne."

"Today her attitude is unchanged, and she is willing, if such action will solve the problem, to withdraw forthwith from a situation that has become both unhappy and untenable."

Thus Mrs. Simpson offered her solution to the crisis.

EDWARD REDUCED

Little Seaside Town Chastises Edward's Monarch

Landing, England, Dec. 8 (AP)—This little seaside resort near Brighton chastised King Edward for his failure to settle the empire crisis.

The parish council meeting last night decided not to name a new street "King Edward Avenue."

"Having regard to the disturbed conditions in politics," a councillor said, "I think it would be as well to leave out the name of King Edward."

So "Power Road" was approved with only three dissenting votes.

Better Business Meeting

London, Dec. 8 (AP)—Although business generally was still limited, the stock exchange developed a better feeling today with the apparent easing of the cabinet crisis. War loans rose three-eighths of a point to 165½. Speculative shares grew firmer and trans-Atlantic issues were active. Lloyd's underwriters still refused to accept insurance against postponement of the coronation. Traders were inquiring for rates but brokers declined to accept any risks and it was understood they were not likely to do so for some time.

Begin Grading for Highland By-Pass

A large amount of grading has already been done by the Lane Construction Company which has the contract for the construction of the new state highway from the Poughkeepsie bridge circle north through Highland to the town of Esopus line at West Park.

The contract was let about a month ago and machinery was moved on the scene immediately and work was begun. Much of the grading from the Esopus line south has been done and this work will be rushed next spring when construction work will begin in earnest. Since practically all of the route will be east of the present route there will be little delay in traffic. The new route will leave the bridge circle and pass north along the present street in Highland village to the monument where it will leave the present alignment and pass by means of a viaduct over the business section of the town to the ridge north of the business section. From there the alignment will be east of the present road for most of the distance to a point some distance south of the Riverside School where the new alignment crosses to the west of the present highway. The new route will continue on the west of the present road for a few hundred feet, running back of the Cannon gas station and then re-crossing the old road just below Highland orchards and continuing on the east of the old road to the Esopus line.

Severe winter weather will halt the grading work until spring.

Loyalists Rake Insurgent Lines

Madrid, Dec. 8 (AP)—Government artillery batteries raked insurgent lines with heavy fire today as a bitter cold wave delayed expected Fascist infantry assaults around the capital's outskirts.

The bombardment was concentrated against insurgent fortifications in the Moncloa and Cuatro Caminos districts.

The emergency defense council disclosed 21 persons were killed during an insurgent aerial attack on Guadalajara, provincial capital northeast of Madrid.

The air raid, which took place Sunday, was also declared to have destroyed a former royal palace, regarded as an important example of early Spanish architecture.

The defense junta reported a minor attack from the air on El Escorial, northwest of the capital, by insurgent bombers yesterday.

May Blow Up Factories
Lille, France, Dec. 8 (AP)—Communist strikers are preparing to blow up Lille factories whose owners have refused to meet their demands. The employers association charged today. The accusation was made after a clash between 200 strikers and more than 100 non-strikers in a motor plant during which one of the company directors was injured by flying stones. A delegation of workers who refused to join the walkout told the prefect that guns have been distributed openly to the striking employees during the last several days.

As between Fascism and Communism, we choose Freedom. Middle-of-the-road democracy is on the up-and-up.

Preacher Visiting Port Ewen Church

DR. A. E. LEGG.

The Rev. Albert Ernest Legg, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Herkimer, will be the preacher at all of the services of the preaching mission which will be held in the Port Ewen Methodist Episcopal Church, beginning this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The services will continue each evening this week through Friday and will close with the morning service next Sunday, December 13.

Dr. Legg is a graduate of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and has served churches in New England and in Buffalo, Elmira, Utica, Fulton and Herkimer. During the years 1910-11 he was a field secretary for the Missionary Education Movement. In the World War, he served in France as a chaplain with the 116th Engineers. He is known for his ability both as a preacher and as a pastor, and both of these abilities will have their place in his work during the Port Ewen preaching mission. Besides preaching in the special services, Dr. Legg will be available for private conferences every morning from 11 to 12 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage, and every evening after the service.

Another helpful feature of the preaching mission will be the Bible reading, with brief comment by Dr. Legg, to be held at the parsonage every afternoon, through Friday, at 3 o'clock. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend any or all of the Bible readings and every evening services and to avail himself of the opportunity for private conference with Dr. Legg.

Morgan May Appear
Washington, Dec. 8 (AP).—Probability that J. P. Morgan would be summoned to a capital witness stand for the third time in four years grew today amid speculation by senate investigators on his reasons for relinquishing control of the nation's largest transportation system.

TB Hospital Auxiliary Meeting

This department could not function without the sale of the articles, as the income from dues is inadequate to buy materials over the period of a year. May I thank every one who has helped this work by purchasing an article from this department and also the committee who very kindly gave their time to work at the stores during the sales.

The entertainments have not been quite as frequent this year as in the past, but it has been very difficult to secure the kind of entertainment that all the patients are able to see or hear. I want to thank all who have come up to our hospital in the past to help cheer our patients.

The visiting committee called two of its visiting days "grab bag days." Donations were given by the members of the Auxiliary and their friends, and instead of taking flowers to each one on visiting day the grab bag was taken around. All the patients thoroughly enjoyed opening their packages.

The book committee has been very active this year. The books were catalogued again and each patient was given a printed list of the books. I want to thank the many friends who have sent in books and magazines to the hospital, as it is a great help to this committee.

Thanks to Press

I want to thank personally Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Reed for the articles they have written from time to time concerning the auxiliary; also the press for their cooperation in giving these articles space in their papers.

The appeal for Christmas at the hospital received a generous response from the people of the county. A total of $109 in cash and many gifts were received. The Christmas trees and the wiring of them were also donated. I want to thank heartily the different church choirs and everyone who helped the Auxiliary make Christmas a time to be long remembered by our patients.

The Business Girls of the Y. W. C. A. are carrying on their birthday program this year by giving the patients a gift on their respective birthdays, and the Live Y'er group of that organization again brightened Thanksgiving by their donation of baskets and napkins for the trays.

I wish to express my gratitude to the chairman and all members of the standing committee for the interest they have displayed and the cheerful manner in which they have supported the work of the auxiliary.

Income For Year

The income during the year was as follows:

Balance on hand Dec. 1935, $25.09
Cash receipts 385.52
Cash payments 389.43
Balance on hand Dec. 7, 1936 31.18

The hospital suffered a great loss in the death of Miss Hagelweide and our Auxiliary has lost a loyal member. Her work in the county and in our institution will long be remembered.

In summing up our year's work, may I say that I hope you have all enjoyed every minute you have given to the welfare of our patients, as I know it has been deeply appreciated.

THE DUCHESS OF YORK

The Duchess of York, 36-year-old wife of the heir presumptive to the English throne, would become Queen Consort in the event of Edward VIII's abdication to marry Mrs. Wallis Simpson, twice-divorced American-born woman. The Duchess was a Scotch commoner, though of aristocratic descent. This is a recent photograph. (Associated Press Photo) by each and every one of them, and I trust you will all "stand by" and work just as hard again this year.

Respectfully submitted,
EMMA W. HOLCOMB,
President.

The annual election of officers for two-year terms took place, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. Frederic Holcomb; first vice-president, Mrs. Bloom; second vice-president, Mrs. R. Carr; third vice-president, Mrs. Mark O'Meara; fourth vice-president, Mrs. S. Mann; Saugerties vice-president, Mrs. R. Hurry; Woodstock vice-president, Mrs. Robeson; Ellenville vice-president, Dr. Divine; Milton vice-president, Mrs. Rhodes; Marlborough vice-president, Mrs. Ferguson; Kerhonkson vice-president, Mrs. Ford; secretary, Mrs. Downer; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Keefe; treasurer, Mrs. Rose.

David Freedman Dies
New York, Dec. 8 (AP).—David Freedman, whose $250,000 breach of contract suit against Eddie Cantor, stage, screen and radio comedian, opened yesterday in Supreme Court, died during the night in his sleep at his home on the upper west side. Freedman, gag and script writer for Cantor and collaborator with the comedian on several magazine articles and books, charged the comedian with abrogation of an oral contract for 10 per cent of Cantor's earnings. Freedman was the first witness in the trial yesterday and spent several minutes on the stand testifying to his early association with Cantor.

HOW TO RELIEVE ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from your druggist a little Icy-Mint and apply once or twice daily. This cooling and soothing preparation quickly relieves the itching and soreness, stops pain and aids in healing the affected parts. Icy-Mint is highly recommended and is easy and pleasant to use. It seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy that is so easy to use may be had at such small cost.

CHILDREN'S COURT

The annual report of County Judge Frederick G. Traver as judge of the Children's Court of Ulster county was submitted to the Board of Supervisors and a copy of the report appears in today's issue of The Freeman.

While the duties of the judge in connection with Children's Court are many during the year and a vast amount of time is devoted to this important work, very little publicity is given the proceedings because of the fact that in most cases the persons brought before the court are minors who have erred in their way. Many of these minors after having the guiding hand of the court extended to them are able to adjust themselves and become respected citizens of the county. It is felt that should the infringements of the law be brought to the public that this publicity might blight the future life of the minor and form a handicap to future progress.

The report of the county judge indicates the number of children's court cases which are annually brought to his attention and also dis-closes the disposition of the matters and gives some measure of understanding as to the extensiveness of this work in the county.

WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

In the annual report of the Board of Managers of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital filed with the Board of Supervisors the decrease in the mortality from this cause from 50 per cent to about 20 per cent in five years is conclusive proof of the great accomplishments made here against the dread disease. The work being done among school children of the county occupies a very important part in the campaign. About 15,000 children in the county have been examined and over 50 cases of pulmonary tuberculosis in a highly contagious stage have been found.

Each year the work in the diagnosis, prevention and treatment of tuberculosis has been extended and credit is given to the mutual cooperation of the medical profession and the people of Ulster county, who were responsible in large measure for the good results obtained.

The purchasing of Christmas Seals is a means of joining the army fighting tuberculosis. This year a nation wide celebration of the 30th anniversary of the sale of Christmas seals is being held. From what was at first thought would be a temporary device in money-raising, the annual sale has in the course of years become an established national custom, an educational factor of enormous value and a method used by millions of the American people for Christmas to tuberculosis prevention.

CHILD WELFARE CLINIC

The establishment of a research, educational and diagnostic clinic devoted to child welfare work in Kingston is a step in the right direction. Any movement which has as its objective the reduction of maternal mortality and infant mortality will receive the heartiest support of all thinking citizens.

Acceptance of the offer from the state health department of state and federal funds to establish the clinic here manifests good judgment. The clinic will be in charge of a part-time physician, two nurses and a clerk, whose salaries will be paid by the state.

At the present time there is a nationwide campaign to reduce the annual maternal death rate in the United States. A death rate which places the United States at the top of a list of 22 countries in the world with the highest number of deaths from this cause. The General Federation of Women's Clubs, which for many years has crusaded for better care for mothers and infants, will take an active part in this drive.
 Mrs. Clarence Fraim, chairman of the department of public welfare of the federation, states that the program being used in the campaign was approved by a committee, who conferred with Dr. Fred L. Adair, chairman of the American Committee on Maternal Welfare of the University of Chicago. In its present form it is being spread throughout the country in the hope that gradually the drastic and inexcusable situation now existing will be remedied and the shocking death rate of mothers will be reduced to a minimum, for no civilized country could be proud of the awful record the United States now holds.

NEW WORD IN RUSSIA

The Russians are talking less about
 "Communism" these days. They say
 "socialism" and "democracy." It remains to be seen whether the Communist dictatorship has been really discarded and social democracy is regarded as a more practical approach to an ideal goal. It remains also to be seen whether the rest of the world will feel less fearful of Soviet democracy than it did of Soviet Communism. Whether the new Constitution brings any real democracy may depend on whether Russia is soon plunged into another war.
 War is essentially autocratic in any country.

One thing is certain. The great Russian "experiment," as we continue to call political and social changes there, remains a fascinating topic of conversation and speculation in this country. An American newspaper man, recently returned from the realm of the Soviets, says he has found the best way to get a lot of dinner invitations is to let it be known you have been to Russia.
 Some of us hate the contemporary Russian regime. Some of us admire it greatly. Some don't understand it. But hardly anyone is indifferent to it.

That Body of Ours

By James W. Burke, M.D.

EARLY TUBERCULOSIS.

It is very gratifying to know that some of the most advanced cases of tuberculosis of the lungs with large cavities, profuse expectoration, and high fever are now being cured by collapsing the lung, thus giving it complete rest. On the other hand it would be more gratifying if tuberculosis were treated in its early stages, or if it were not allowed to get a start in the body at all.

Therefore the organizations engaged in preventing tuberculosis are trying to instruct the public on how to prevent tuberculosis and how to recognize it in its early stages.

In Handbook of Therapy, edited by Dr. Morris Fishbein and published by the American Medical Association, the very early or pre-tubercular symptoms are outlined.

"At the very early stage there may not be any lung signs. There is loss of weight, more or less disturbance of the stomach, pallor, a general feeling of weakness, and disturbance of the circulation of the blood—cold hand and feet.

There is generally a history of progressive loss of weight, irregular chest pains, shallow breathing, dry cough especially when a deep breath is taken, and, most important sign of all, an afternoon or evening rise of temperature.

Stomach indigestion, with loss of appetite, is often an early symptom of lung tuberculosis.

Instead of the tuberculosis chest being flat, it is usually round or barrel-shaped; that is its width in proportion to its depth is not as large as in normal individuals. Thus as pointed out many years ago the tuberculosis chest is the immature or "baby" chest.

The chest expansion is usually below the average.

"A study of the temperature of the suspected person is important; the temperature should be taken every three hours during the day for several days; or at least at 8 o'clock in the morning, and 4 in the afternoon, and at 8 in the evening. A regular or recurrent rise of temperature without any other known cause, is almost a sure sign of a latent or quiet tuberculosis becoming active.

Some patients who show no fever
 when at rest will have quite a rise of temperature on the least exercise.
 An increased pulse rate—100 or over—with or without rise of temperature, unless there is a thyroid condition, is suggestive of tuberculosis.

I believe that recognition of these symptoms of early tuberculosis, which can be noted by the patient or the family, will prevent the advance of tuberculosis and save many lives.
 And at this time the efforts of the National Tuberculosis Association to raise funds by the sale of their Christmas seals should receive our sympathetic support.

Peasants' Courts

Surrounding Valencia, Spain, are innumerable miles of orchards owned by the peasants and the disputes among them for the past 300 years have been settled every Thursday by an elected court of the peasantry itself, seven judges, each one representing a different irrigation canal and district. The decisions of the judges are final and any peasant found guilty may be deprived of water for his fields.

Wings For Sally

by BAILEY WOLFE

SYNOPSIS. Darkly handsome and rather serious, Philip Page returns to his boyhood home to help the Warrenton Courier. He meets the daughter of the Morris mill in their fight for better homes, and occasionally scowls Sally Warren, the attractive young society editor Sally breaks her engagement to Terry Maynard, boyish blond aviator who has fallen in love with her younger sister, Tip. Still loving Terry, Sally sees him married to Tip and waves them off to South America. Philip's struggle for better conditions is complicated when Mary Morris, daughter of the wealthy property owner, pursues him.

Chapter 28

'The Palace Is On Fire'

IN THE days that followed, Sally worked at home and at the office with unflagging energy. She grew a little thinner and was often moody.
 Her father would come upon her,
 when she pretended to be reading in the hammock, and find her staring idly at the branches of the apple tree.
 He would scold her for dreaming too much, and try to get her to take a vacation, but Sally would shake her head firmly. She was needed at the office. Philip Page relied more and more on her judgment, and she was grateful to him for giving her more work than she could do.

Sally came home one evening in August, after working late at the office, to find Ray and Mary Morris in the dining room. In the absence of the older Warrens, they had rented the log-house.
 "Hello, darling!" Mary greeted Sally. "I've been waiting for you for hours. Of course I've been doing my best to be amused by your little brother—"

"I've found where she's vulnerable," said Ray. "She's feeling her age."

"Wretch!" cried Mary.
 At this moment the fire alarm rang.
 The station was some three blocks away, near the center of town, and the siren sounded deafeningly near the Warren house. Both girls stopped to count the signal.

"It's the down-town district," said Sally.

"Then it's nowhere near home,"
 said Mary comfortably.

Ray came dashing in.
 "It's the Palace theater on fire," he said, "and it's packed! Get your car, Mary!"

Fighting The Blaze

MARY'S rooster made short work of the few blocks from the Warren house to the down-town district.
 A block from the theater the smoke was so dense they could see nothing of the building itself—nothing but ribbons of flame gleaming through gray smoke. The town's small fire department, sent by volunteers, was making a gallant fight. The few policemen were powerless to keep back the crowd.

An ambulance siren screamed, and Mary and Sally drew back to the safety of the sidewalk. Ray left them and ran into the thick of the crowd.
 Sally and Mary, holding tightly to each other, struggled through a mass of men and women that screamed and fought to get close to the burning theater. Many were searching for friends and relatives who might be caught in the building.

Through a break in the crowd, Sally caught a glimpse of the full horror of the fire. People were still running from the building. The injured were laid out in rows on the roped-off portion of the street.

A woman, with her hair burning, ran past Sally. A man caught and held her while he smothered the flames with his coat. Close beside Sally a child fell, and the crowd threatened to trample him. Sally pushed the boy up. He was only three or four, and with wild fright, struggling against her, Sally got him to safety. The Courier office where the downstairs rooms had been turned into a first aid room. Sally turned the child over to a woman who was trying to quiet two older children.

Again and again she went back to the street to bring in people who were injured, or searched frantically for relatives they had lost. Above the cries of the street and the noise of the ambulance and police sirens, she was conscious of the regular clack of the machinery in the Courier building.
 The paper was going to press. While people were hurt and dying, while the fire raged near by, the Courier was grinding out the story of the worst tragedy Warrenton had known in years.

Sally did not see Mary Morris again that night. Her brother, Ray, blackened with smoke, his clothes torn, ran past her many times. Once Sally paused to telephone home, saying she and Ray were safe.

At three in the morning, when there seemed nothing else to do, Sally went upstairs to the editorial room and attempted to go to sleep. The room was full of reporters and those who had been helping in the street.

Philip Page came in. The room grew suddenly quiet. Philip was grim and disheveled, and his eyes were blood-shot. He gripped the desk with one hand.

"Ten dead that we know of," he said. "At least 60 injured. But the theater, ladies and gentlemen, was inured. There's no loss Joe Morris will get every cent it was worth.

 That's the story we'll have for Warrenton in the morning paper."

Morris Hires A Detective

AFTER the tragedy of the fire in the Palace theater, the entire town of Warrenton divided into two camps: those who blamed Mr.
 Morris, the owner, and those who felt that the theater had been deliberately burned by enemies of Morris, the rich man of Warrenton.

Although Philip Page did not believe that Morris himself had anything to do with the firing of the theater, he knew that Morris had been warned it was unsafe, and he published the fact. He proclaimed to the town that Morris owned many unsafe dwellings and called for a clean-up of the Morris slum properties.

Two days after the fire, when Sally was taking dictation from Philip Page, Mary Morris was admitted to the office. Seeing Sally, she stopped short in her impetuous entry.

"I'm sorry," she said. "I thought you were alone."

"I'll go," said Sally. "I was only taking some letters."

"Please don't," Mary protested.

"I've got something to tell Philip, and you may as well know about it, too."

She turned impulsively to Philip. "I happened to hear that Dad had hired a detective to investigate the fire."

"If he's an honest detective that may be a good thing," Philip responded. "Who is he?"

"I don't know," Mary was a little breathless, and somewhat nervous, as if she felt that she had dared a good deal to come to the office at all.

"Why did you come to tell me?"
 asked Philip with some curiosity.

"I—I somehow wanted you to know," Mary looked down at her hands, and a slow blush spread over her face. She could not say that she was glad of any opportunity that gave her a chance to see Philip.

"I've nothing to hide," Philip went on. "Is he planning to have me investigated, too?"

"I don't know," Mary smiled at him
 shyly. "It wouldn't surprise me, though."

"Don't you think you're playing a rather dangerous game—warning your father's worst enemy?"

"Perhaps I don't know what Dad would do to me if he knew," confessed
 Mary. "But there's another thing.
 Someone is writing Dad threatening letters. He's had another, boasting about the Palace fire, and threatening to burn our house."

"Who does he think is writing them?"
 questioned Philip sharply.

"I'm not sure I think he believes McDonald, or some other workman that he discharged has it in for him."

"That's not likely," frowned Philip.
 "McDonald or any of the others who've suffered at his hands, would know better than that. They know he made money out of the Palace fire."

"You hate him for that, don't you?"
 said Mary plaintively. "You shouldn't hate him. You don't know how he's suffered over it, how we all have. I—I feel like a murderer, myself."

Sally, looking at Mary's downcast face, and noting the care with which she was dressed, wondered how much sorrow Mary really felt, and how much she was acting for Philip's benefit.

"You mustn't blame yourself," said Philip, in a softer voice. "You weren't to blame, and you've certainly done what you could."

"Do you think so?" Mary's face lighted. "I've done what—whatever money can do to help those who suffered in the fire. It's out of my money, too. Not a cent of Dad's."

"I'm very grateful to you for coming here," said Philip, rising. "But I must ask you not to do this again. I won't have your father saying that I'm trying to get in your good graces and use you for a spy."

"He doesn't know I came here," said Mary. "What if he does? I'm 21.
 I can do as I like."

Mary looked like a beautiful spoiled child, and Philip smiled at her tolerantly.

"Nevertheless, I must ask you not to come here again."

"Then I shall come to the house," said Mary. "Or I'll tell Sally. You wouldn't object to receiving information from Sally?"

She darted a glance at Sally, half questioning, Sally knew that Mary envied her the job she held with Philip and his confidence in her.

"I doubt if you'll be put to the test," said Philip. "I don't think there is anything you need tell me about your father's moves. Nothing that would help either me or him."

"You're wrong there," said Mary.
 "I'll prove that later." She went to the door. "I'm sorry I disturbed you, please get back to your letters. The door banged behind her.

"Now I've made her angry," said Philip ruefully. "I certainly haven't enough friends in town to lose one."

"She's not really angry," comforted Sally. "She's just disappointed. She likes you far too well to be very angry with you."

"Your knowledge of human nature makes you very valuable in the office, Sally," said Philip teasingly.

"I deserved that," murmured Sally.
 She did not mind his teasing. Philip had been very grim and tired of late and she had seen little of his smile.

Sally moved into the Morris house and made a dangerous man her brother.

City Snow Plows Ready for Instant Use When Needed

Street Department Leases Heated Garage on Teller Street Where Equipment Can Be Moved Instantly When Need Arises—City Divided Into Districts and Certain Plows Assigned to Each District.

For probably the first time in local history Kingston's snow removal equipment is ready for instant use. The equipment, consisting of 12 plowing units and snow loaders, are now kept in a heated garage on Teller street that the board of public works has rented. Hitherto the street department has been handicapped as much of the equipment had to be stored in open spaces and it was a difficult job to start the motors turning as anyone who keeps his car in a cold garage is aware of on a wintry morning. Kept in a heated garage at all times when not in use there will be no trouble found in turning over the motors when the work comes to go.

Superintendent David Conway of the board of public works has taken the experience learned last winter to heart and this winter was determined not to be caught unprepared. He has had maps made of the entire city and has laid the city out in districts. Each plow is assigned a certain district and the driver has in the cab of the truck not only a map of the city showing the district to which the truck is assigned but also the list of streets that the truck is to plow.

This plan will avoid duplication of effort and no time will be lost when the plows start out to wait for orders as to where to go but as soon as a plow leaves the garage the driver knows just the district to which the truck is assigned but also the streets to be plowed by that particular plow.

The map also gives the location where each truck loaded with snow is to dump its cargo. These spots where snow can be dumped are located in strategic points in the city so that no time is lost in hunting for a dumping ground. The plan also calls for the truck to enter the dumping ground from a certain point and leave it at another so that one truck does not get in the way of the other.

The city trucks which are to be equipped with plows when there is sufficient snow to call for plowing the streets are equipped so that it will only take about five minutes to install the plow on the truck.

With the plan of having the city divided into districts and also of having all snow removal equipment ready for instant use the board of public works believes that it will be able to handle the snow removal problem efficiently and promptly. Never before in the city's history has the city had as many snow plowing units on hand and ready as this winter.

ACCORD.

Accord, Dec. 5.—Installation of officers of the Patroon Grange will be held on Friday evening, December 11, at 9 o'clock, following the service at the Reformed Church. Ross K. Osterhout of Stone Ridge and degree team from Rosendale will officiate.

Family night will be held at the Methodist Church on Thursday evening, December 10, at 7:30 o'clock. There will be games for young and old, an "amateur hour" program, gong and all, and delicious refreshments. A silver offering will be taken to be used in the Methodist Sunday School Christmas fund. The public is cordially invited. All members of the Sunday school and their parents are given a special invitation.

On Thursday evening, December 3, a stork shower was tendered Mrs. Lloyd Barley at the home of Mrs. H. E. Brooks. About 35 friends gathered about the gift basket to enjoy with Mrs. Barley the opening of the many lovely gifts which were showered upon her. The evening was spent in playing pinocle and dominoes for which very lovely prizes were offered. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served, consisting of fruit jello topped with whipped cream, cake and cocoa. The guests departed vowing Mrs. Barley and Mrs. Brooks gracious hostesses.

The ladies of the Methodist Church will hold an all-day social meeting at the church hall on Wednesday, December 9. A pot luck luncheon will be served at noon. The day will be spent in sewing.

Eight men members of the Reformed Church attended the Ulster Classes banquet held in Port Ewen Reformed Church hall on Friday evening, December 4. Their families were hospitably entertained at a pot luck supper at the home of Mrs. Percy Gazlay.

Friends of Mrs. Norlimer Block are glad to know she is out again after having been ill.

King's Chief Backer No. 1 Cabinet Baiter

By DEWITT MACKENZIE.

New York (AP).—Should Winston Churchill become British prime minister in place of Stanley Baldwin as the result of the crisis revolving about King Edward and Mrs. Wallis Simpson—a possibility that has been discussed in political circles in London—it would bring to that high post one of the most brilliant and versatile men in English history.

The 63-year-old conservative, a member of the house of commons, belongs to the same party as Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, but has been a severe critic of the government. As grandson of the great Duke of Marlborough he has one of the bluest bloods in Britain, and long has been the friend of the royal family. He is an amazing jack-of-all trades, but he is not a dilettante—he does supremely well everything he touches.

Man of Many Facets.

As statesman he has held most of the big cabinet positions, though he never has been prime minister. He has fought in many wars, big and little, and has many military decorations.

Titles? Oh, no. He is the Great Churchill and grandson of a Duke. He doesn't need anything more. Mere knights tip their hats to him. Partly because of his first-hand knowledge of war, he has been minister of war, and minister of munitions as well.

But he is also a naval expert, and was the big chief of the King's war.

He delved into aviation and became good enough at it to be minister for air.

He is an astute financier and has held the very important post of chancellor of the exchequer.

A Well Known Writer.

During the World War he was one of the dominant figures in the British cabinet.

He achieved fame as a war correspondent and journalist.

He is the author of many historical works, and literary critics place him among the greatest English writers of all time.

He is second to none in Britain as an orator; he holds the house of commons spell-bound.

His wit is scintillating; he is one of the most popular after-dinner speakers.

He is a capable landscape painter—an art which he took up rather late in life and mastered.

And Lays Bricks.

Brick-laying is one of his passions. He builds walls and houses, and does it so well that the brick layers' union accorded him membership in their organization.

He has personality that commands immediate attention in any gathering. He is far from hand-

"OFTEN A BRIDESMAID"
Brilliant Winston Churchill has held virtually every important British government post except that of prime minister.

some but he has a striking appearance and a bearing slightly reminiscent of the accomplished actor. Commonplace remarks rarely pass his lips.

He would tell if his expansive shoulders were not lunched forward. He has a puckish face which mirrors a puckish mentality.

Vitrolle in Attack.
He talks fluently but with restraint—no waving of the arms, no shouting. Every word is carefully chosen, and there is no stammering, herring David Lloyd George, who can match him in vitrolle sarcasm. The writer has seen Churchill more than once punish the cabinet until they slumped in their seats.

Churchill is famous for his hats, many of which are well-nigh unique and said to be designed by himself.

One other Churchill fixture is a big, long cigar in the side of his puckish mouth.

Santa and the Viking

BY SIGRID ARNE

THE STORY SO FAR: The North Wind has blown a sailing ship, carrying a lone sailor, to Santa's toyland. Santa is surprised and puzzled.

Chapter Two
The Sailor's Story

The eyes of rosy-cheeked Santa and of chubby Mrs. Santa nearly popped out of their heads as they watched their strange visitors, the sailor, approach them.

You remember, the North Wind had sent a visitor in a sailing ship to Santa's toyland.

As the sailor walked toward Santa, he took off his beautiful, silver helmet and bowed, his long, yellow hair blowing in the wind. But as he straightened up and looked at Santa he looked rather startling because big tears were rolling down his cheeks into his yellow beard. He asked, "Is my daughter here?"

"My gracious," said Santa, taking the man by his arm, "come in, come in. Your daughter isn't here, but we might help you find her."

Dolls Jumped To Their Feet
So Santa and the stranger and Mrs. Santa entered the large toyshop and went to the roaring fire in the fireplace to warm their hands. Hundreds of dolls jumped to their feet; one elf was so curious that he fell on the topshelves to look and

He took off his silver helmet and bowed.

toy drum.

"Poor man, where have you come from?" said Mrs. Santa, tugging nervously at her white apron.

The man sank onto a bench by the door and told his story.

"Three hundred years ago I was a proud lord with a castle at the northernmost tip of Norway. My name is Nils. My castle was great and my ships were many and strong. I sailed away each spring, and only came back when ice was locking the harbor. I had a beautiful wife, Margreta, and a little golden-haired daughter, Gudrun.

Little Gudrun Wandered Off
"But one spring the sweet Margreta was ill, and she begged me to stay in the harbor, though the wind was howling the sails of my ships, and I went. When I returned with soft silks and good red wines from the south, Margreta was dead and my little Gudrun had wandered off through the fords to find me. No one has seen her since.

"Long ago I should have gone to Valhalla, the heaven of the Vikings, but the Gods have granted me extra time on earth to find my daughter. Through the years all my sailors have died, and I am as good as dead. I'm tired and I'm lonesome." He ended his story and wept into his great, white hands.

Saugerties News

Saugerties Fish, Game Club Dines

Saugerties, Dec. 7.—The annual banquet of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club was held at the Crotty Hotel on Thursday evening with nearly 100 present to enjoy the good food prepared by the hostess, Mrs. Mary Crotty, who has become favorably known for her dinners.

The occasion was in charge of Frank Malone, president of the club, who greeted the members and guests cordially and spoke on the many advantages that have derived from its membership and invited other sportsmen to join so greater things may be accomplished during the coming year.

The entertainment was furnished by Gardner's Broadcasters with Bill Gardner as master of ceremonies and consisted of selections both vocal and instrumental with members joining in singing. The banquet was successful and the officers are to be creditably acknowledged for the manner in which this affair was carried out.

Various Village Notes

Saugerties, Dec. 7.—The Rev. Gordon A. Reiger of Jersey City, who is occupying the Congregational pulpit, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Longendyck of upper Washington avenue on Sunday.

The Girls' Community Club will hold an important meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are asked to be present.

At the annual meeting of the Saugerties Reformed Dutch Church the following officers were chosen to serve: Elders, Dr. John C. Kamp and Philip Van Ertten; Deacons, Robert A. Snyder and Stuart B. Maxwell.

Mrs. William Chidester of Main street celebrated her 80th birthday on Friday in good health and her many friends wish her many more birthdays in years to come.

Mrs. Lang of Ulster avenue, who has been under treatment in the Kingston Hospital, returned to her home on Sunday afternoon. Dr. Sonking and Nurses Alice Benton and Mrs. Warringer are attending her.

Saugerties Fish, Game Club Dines

Mrs. Gladys Warren, Mrs. Jessie Myers and John M. Davis have been added to the sales force of Reed and Reed for the holiday season.

Arthur Horning of Poughkeepsie, a recent guest of his mother, who resides at 141 Maiden-on-Hudson.

Many of the employees of the local J. J. Newberry Co. on Main street will receive the bonus recently announced by the firm. This will add to the good cheer and merriment of the Yuletide season.

A certificate of membership has been granted to Roland Newkirk in the T. B. Cornwell Fire Co.

An exempt firemen's certificate has been granted to William McCormick for his faithful duty with the fire company for the last five years, or more.

An interesting meeting of the Saugerties Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the home of Mrs. Grant D. Morse on Ulster avenue last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. F. E. W. Darrow presided at the meeting and Miss Ruth Wilson of the high school faculty was the guest. The Chapter listened to interesting accounts from Mrs. Phelps, Mrs. Darrow and Miss Elsie York on matters pertaining to the good of the Chapter. Contributions of wool and materials for clothing are donated and sent to Ellis Island as a Christmas box and is in charge of Mrs. Smedberg of the local Chapter. Tea was served and Miss Wilson was introduced to the local members by Miss Hommel and given a warm welcome.

Twenty-eight members of the Jolly Junior Club were present at a meeting held in the Reformed Dutch Church on Friday afternoon with the supervisors. The meeting was held in order to pack Christmas boxes to be sent to the Reformed Dutch Mission School at Gray Hawk, Ky. Each member contributed something for the boxes which contained clothing, toys, school material and dolls.

The Twentieth Century Class of this village will hold its meeting at the home of Mrs. Stanley Longendyck, Russell street, Friday evening. Election of officers will take place and all members are asked to be present.

THE "SPREAD" WHO GETS THE DOLLAR?

[Over a period of years, Swift & Company's net profits from all sources have averaged only a fraction of a cent per pound.]

SO economically does Swift & Company span the gap between packing plant and retail shop that producers of the livestock, butterfat, eggs and poultry bought by the company are receiving approximately 75 cents of the average dollar paid by retailers. The company's 1935 wholesale food and by-products dollar was divided as follows:

To producers of livestock and other agricultural products	74.7 cents
For Labor (including wages and salaries)	10.9 "
For Transportation	3.2 "
For Interest	.3 "
For Supplies	4.3 "
For Rents, Taxes, Refrigeration, Insurance, Pensions, Traveling, Telephone, Telegraph, Stationery, Depreciation and other expense items	4.7 "
Balance remaining with Swift & Company:
Net Earnings	1.9 "
	100 cents

Hundreds and hundreds of miles must be traveled by the many products and by-products of a Kansas steer, Iowa hog, or Montana lamb before they reach the nationwide outlets where retail shops await them. The routes over which they go radiate from each Swift & Company plant like the spokes of a wheel.

Each product and by-product must be individually prepared, made ready for shipment, and hurried on its way to that near or distant point, east, west, north or south, where it is in biggest demand. Often scores of sales must be made to market all parts of an animal.

In spite of the fact that many of the expenses listed above have increased—expenses over which Swift & Company has no control—75 cents out of the average dollar received for meat and other products have been returned to the producers of livestock, butterfat, cheese, eggs and poultry.

So small are Swift & Company's earnings that they have no appreciable effect upon livestock prices or meat prices.

Report of Work in Children's Court By Judge Traver

Following is the report of work in children's court of Ulster county from December 1, 1935 to November 30, 1936, as submitted to the Board of Supervisors of Ulster county:

Hereinafter set forth is the report of the work in the Children's Court covering the period beginning December 1, 1935 and ending November 30, 1936. During the 12 months 121 cases have been disposed of, involving 12 delinquent boys; 13 delinquent girls; 14 neglected boys; 21 neglected girls; 20 physically handicapped boys; seven physically handicapped girls; two boys adopted; one girl adopted; one girl given consent to marry and six filiation proceedings.

These cases are treated under two class headings: Formal and Informal. Formal cases are those in which a verified petition has been presented, summons issued, hearing held and judgment entered, while informal complaints of minor delinquents and of neglected cases, where in the condition might be corrected by warnings or conferences, are designated as Informal cases.

The details are as follows:

Formal Cases

There were 114 formal cases presented during the 12 months. Of this number 63 were boys and 45 were girls and six filiation proceedings. Of the 63 boys, 27 were delinquent, 14 were neglected, 20 physically handicapped and two adopted. Of the 45 girls, 11 were delinquent, 25 were neglected, seven physically handicapped, one adopted and one given consent to marry. A summary of the charges in the cases of the boys is as follows:

SINGS IN OPERA AT 15

Betty Jaynes (above), 15-year-old Chicago high school sophomore, won the acclaim of critics for her singing of the role of Mimi in a Chicago Opera Company presentation of "La Boheme." twenty-one cases listed above as dealt with by the Court during the year, there are now twenty-four cases pending, in which hearings have been held and in which further deliberation is necessary before decisions can be rendered.

The results sought in all cases are the protection and welfare of the children of this community. If such results have been obtained and if the children appearing before this Court have been protected where they needed protection, helped where they needed help and punished where punishment seemed necessary, credit is due in large measure for these accomplishments to the excellent work done by Mary C. Doremus, County Agent for Dependent Children, and Robert J. Service, Chief Probation Officer.

The Court, in every case required has received the hearty cooperation of the County Agent, Mary C. Doremus, who has made a large number of investigations and reports and who has attended practically all of the sessions of the Children's Court during the period covered by this report and has assisted the Court by her counsel and advice in the many puzzling cases which have arisen.

Mr. Robert J. Service, the Chief Probation Officer, has taken charge of numerous probationers and other children and has worked with them and given most efficient attention to their cases. He has done his work well and thoroughly and has accomplished much toward the protection and the reformation of the children whose cases have been committed to his care.

In addition, in his field work during the past year, he has rendered valuable service throughout the County in settling various complaints and in obviating the necessity in very many cases of matters being presented to the Children's Court.

The Court takes this opportunity of expressing, and publishing his expression of, his sincere appreciation for the assistance of the above-mentioned officials and also for the ready cooperation he has received from the Sheriff's Office, the District Attorney's Office, the State Police and the City Police.

Respectfully submitted,
Dated, December 1st, 1936

To Unveil Painting At Home Coming

Hurleyville, Dec. 7.—The Nervous M. E. Church will have a "Home Coming" on Sunday, December 13, in connection with the unveiling of a mural painting, presented in memory of Mrs. Charles Freer, who for many years was an active member of the church. The order of the day will be as follows:

Sunday, December 13, 11 a. m., Holy Communion, the Rev. Herbert W. Hahn.

Sunday afternoon 2:30, music by the Hurleyville M. E. Church choir. Guest speaker, the Rev. George A. Cook, a former pastor.

Unveiling of mural painting, 6:30 p. m., Fellowship supper in the church hall.

Sunday evening, 7:30, music by the Hurleyville M. E. Church choir. Guest speaker, the Rev. George A. Cook, a former pastor.

The subject, "Christ in Gethsemane," which has been made famous by Heinrich Hofmann, was originally painted in 1890. The original painting has hung for many years in the Royal Gallery in Dresden, but was finally purchased in New York by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and presented as a gift to the Riverside Church where it now hangs in "The Christ Chapel."

The artist John C. Parker of Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, has with few exceptions followed this masterpiece of art. He has blended the colors in such a way that they are in harmony with the color scheme of the newly redecorated church. The robe is of a dark wine color and the vesture is of white with a delicate shading of light blue which stands out distinctly against the dark blue background of a sky that reflects the silvery tints of an obscure moonlight. The entire picture, including the frame of golden oak, measures seven feet one inch in height, and four feet in width and will be illuminated by a special lighting fixture at night.

The Chactress river is in Panama.

Kresge Employees Given a Bonus

For some time past it has been the custom of the S. S. Kresge Company, one of whose stores is located on Wall street, to give its employees a bonus during the holiday season. Following the usual custom men employees of eight or more years will receive a bonus of $75, while others who have been there, but a short while will receive a bonus of $5. The sales girls will receive a bonus of from $5 to $30, the ones receiving the latter amount being employed for 10 or more years.

A course for laundresses is given by the department of chemistry at Texas A and M college.

Bonuses to Grant Company Employees

The W. T. Grant Company, who have a store on Wall street, again will give their employees holiday bonuses. The maximum amount for those who have been in the company's employ for 10 years or more is 2 1/2 weeks' pay, with the amount of the bonus dropping to as low as a few dollars to those who have been in the employ of the company for a month or more.

Shelves chests of drawers or closets may be built on either side of the bed to form an alcove. A room with such features needs fewer pieces of furniture.

A NATIONAL DISTILLERS' PRODUCT

They all look alike...but one is a CHAMPION!

The smoothness and ease of a champion fencer in action is a thrilling treat for any one to experience. In whiskies, too, smoothness counts for a great deal. Windsor, a champion in its price class, is wonderfully smooth and easy. It has a rich, round, ripe flavor that distinguishes it as one of the soundest of all straight bourbons. Yet it is mild and light. Judge Windsor by the standards that you apply to a champion. You will not be disappointed!

Official Records Made in the DUSO League by K.H.S. Gridders

Kingston High School compiled an official percentage of 667 in copping the 1936 DUSO football championship and a statistical review reveals the Kinsmen as making a favorable showing in all departments. The Maroon chargers annexed the team scoring title and placed two athletes in the runner-up positions in the individual point-scoring race.

Captain Kins' jugglers garnered 31 points in the team scoring race to outscore the powerful Middletown machine by five tallies. Newburgh collected 10 points, while Port Jervis was relegated to the cellar with a lone touchdown. However, Leslie Orine's feat of recovering Schmick's blocked kick in the end-zone turned the DUSO gridiron-world topper-turvy and presented the championship honors to the plucky local band.

Ray Dodd's spectacular touchdown display against Kingston enabled him to corral individual scoring honors with 18 points. Tommy Malone and George Rifenbary followed with 12 markers apiece and a total of nine players inscribed their names on the DUSO scoring tablet.

The statistical compilation for the DUSO League contests follow:

Golfers Turn to The Bahamas

Coral Gables, Fla., Dec. 8 (AP).—The sun-kissed young men who follow the winter golfing trail for a living turned toward a $4,000 goal in the Bahamas Islands today after pocketing $10,000 from the Miami Biltmore's seventh annual open.

Ralph Guidahl, husky St. Louis automobile salesman, rode high among the money seekers who put to sea for the 72-hole Nassau open play starting Saturday.

Guidahl captured the $2,500 top share of the Biltmore despite a shaky finish and a two-stroke penalty yesterday and this added to his $1,000 first prize from the Augusta open of the week before.

Guidahl won by virtue of three sub-par rounds for the first three days of play. He posted 283 for the 72 holes, two strokes better than Horton Smith of Chicago, who took second place and the accompanying $1,350. Gene Sarazen of New York and Harold "Jug" McSpaden of Winchester, Mass., tied and split third and fourth money of $1,750.

Silence Cloaks Subsidizing and Grid Recruiting

New York, Dec. 8 (AP).—If any general trend can be discerned in the current attitude of this country's colleges toward those old bugbears, subsidizing and recruiting, a discreet silence seems to be the most apt description of it.

In a few scattering instances, notably in the Big Ten and the Southern Conference, both subjects either have, or will, come up for formal discussion but elsewhere there was small response to a nationwide Associated Press poll designed to discover just what developments could be expected along these lines.

The Southern Conference has just completed its first football season under the "Graham Plan," which was aimed at elimination of subsidization and recruiting. Its fate will be decided when the Conference holds its annual sessions on Friday and Saturday at Richmond.

Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina and author of the plan, plans to press for further tightening of the rules but Forest Fletcher, of Washington and Lee, president of the Conference, has said that all members of the Conference have been violating the plan in "spirit" and that he will seek its abolishment.

In the Big Ten, the "Reynolds Plan" which would have legalized modified subsidization was given short shrift when it came to a vote the other day, the tally being 9 to 1 against.

The Southeastern Conference which adopted a controlled scholarship plan a year ago plans no drastic changes although an amendment meeting to be presented at the annual meeting this week to break up the practice, reported at a few schools, of inviting prospective freshmen early and taking the pick of the lot.

Allen's Program
Dr. F. C. (Phog) Allen, athletic director of the University of Kansas, has come up with a five-point scheme which he hopes will be taken up by the American Association of University and College Presidents. His plan, briefly, lined up like this:

1. Athletic competition in the major universities would be limited to two years.

2. Athletic competition in smaller schools (now permitting four year play) would be limited to three years.

3. Adoption of a national no-transfer rule to eliminate "tramp" athletes.

4. Scheduling of games between schools of different rank would be prohibited.

5. Eligibility would be predicated on a student's advancement toward a degree rather than on the basis of "outmoded definitions of amateur and professional."

WATERTOWN HIGH GETS HUD TO CLEARWATER, F.I.A.

Watertown, N. Y., Dec. 8 (AP).—The board of education said today it would sanction the acceptance by the Watertown High School football team of an invitation from Clearwater, Fla., to play the high school team there on December 18. The sanction, however, was conditional on the ability of the team to raise the money for the trip. The team, champions of the Northern New York Scholastic League, defeated the Erie, Pa., sectional champions here Thanksgiving Day.

Deep Water Wells
One of the deepest water wells in the world is at Putnam Heights, Conn. It goes down 6,004 feet, but yields only two gallons per minute. Another, at Passy, France, is 1,523 feet deep and shoots 3,000,000 gallons a day to a height of 34 feet above the ground. Wells have many uses. They supply water for irrigation, and even for keeping hospitals warm. Some deep wells send up water which is hot the year round. One at Charleston, S. C., for example, spouts water which registers 57 degrees.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—Mild reverses punctuated today's stock market session, although the list as a whole moved apathetically.

Selected rails, steels, motors and specialties edged forward while numerous issues clung to a slim groove. Near the final hour Great Northern and Northern Pacific, each owning 43.5 per cent of the Burlington common stock, jumped about a point. The latter declared a $4 dividend for 1936 against $2 paid in the previous year.

Transfers were around 1,700,000 shares.

Among the better performing shares were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Northern Railway Preferred, Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, United Fruit, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Western Union, Electric Power & Light, Public Service, New Jersey, Kennecott, International Nickel, General Electric and J. P. Morgan.

In a relatively restricted area, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, National Distillers, Consolidated Edison, North American, American Water Works, and Standard Oil of N. J. U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Anaconda, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Loew's, Paramount and International Telephone.

Retail Sales Hit New High for Month

Important in Monday's financial developments were Supreme Court decisions affecting utilities. A. T. & T. lost suit to set aside F. C. C. order establishing uniform system of accounting for telephone industry. However, decision was not viewed as outright victory for "original cost" school of utility valuation as other factors would have to be brought into consideration in event the property cost item should enter into rate regulation.

In attempt by North American Co. and American Water Works to prevent delay of their test of Public Utility Act until after Electric Bond and Share suit on same issue is decided, Supreme Court sent case back to trial for rehearing stipulating a limitation on any stay of the suit.

Among November retail sales reports: Montgomery Ward $36,773,214, up 19.6 per cent over year ago; Walgreen $5,328,503, up 8.7 per cent; Spiegel $5,323,451, up 46.1 per cent.

Auto orders are piling up despite production increases. December sales may exceed those of a year ago.

General Motors November domestic retail sales are estimated at 160,000 units, new high for the month, up 17 per cent over a year ago. Chevrolet retail sales set a record at 108,093. Best previous November total was 92,065 in 1935.

Standard Oil of Indiana is lifting tank wagon gasoline prices. Move is believed due to shortage in mid-western area, but is not expected to spread to the east. Standard Oil of New Jersey advanced tank car kerosene price in eastern seaboard cities.

American Car and Foundry net in six months to October 31 totaled $729,376 vs. net loss of $1,731,318 year ago.

Eastern Pacific Railway ordered 1,000 box cars, splitting orders equally among A. C. F. Pullman, Pressed Steel Car and Bethlehem Steel.

Reading's 1936 net is forecast at $2.50 a common share vs. $2.08 year ago. Illinois Central November gross is estimated at more than $10,700,000 vs. $8,505,740 year ago. Lehigh Valley reported October net of $420,744 vs. $172,555.

Freight loadings last week are estimated at 750,000 cars vs. 679,984 in the previous week, which included Thanksgiving holiday and 637,000 year ago.

National Steel declared two dividends totaling $1,624; Chairman E. T. Weir announced increase of $1 a year in regular rate. Adams Express declared 35-cent year-end dividend on common.

United Chemicals declared $1.50 on $5 preferred arrears. Twin City Rapid Transit resumed preferred payments with $14 on accumulations.

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKERS AT MOTION PICTURE CLASSES

At the open meeting of the "Better Appreciation of Motion Picture" Classes to be held at the Kingston Y. W. C. A. on the evening of January 22, Mrs. Sally K. Herbert, state chairman of Motion Pictures for the Federation of Women's Clubs and Miss Blanche Turner, a representative from and for a number of years connected with the Warner Brother's Studio, New York city, will be the guests of honor and speakers.

A Million Air Passengers

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Bureau of Air Commerce, estimating that 1,000,000 passengers have traveled America's air lanes this year, said today planes twice as large as any now in use may be flying commercial routes in two years. A bureau official said one manufacturing company is constructing a 40-passenger 20-ton ship. The largest planes now flying scheduled routes carry a maximum of 21 passengers.

Executive Council Meets

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 8 (AP)—The executive council of the New York State Federation of Labor met here today to consider a legislative program expected to include recommendations for enactment of the remainder of Governor Lehman's social security program and a new minimum wage law for women. Most of the program to be presented to the 1937 legislature was outlined at the 12nd annual convention of the federation in Syracuse last night.

Ladies' Aid Meeting

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Fair Street Reformed Church will meet in the lecture room of the church on Wednesday, December 9, at 2:30 p. m. This meeting was postponed from December 1.

Argentina Will Sign Four Treaties

Buenos Aires, Dec. 8 (AP)—Argentina will sign four long-unratified peace treaties, Carlos Saavedra Lamas, Argentine foreign minister said today, to win the support of other republics in the drive to guarantee peace in the western world.

Saavedra Lamas, president of the Inter-American Conference and recent winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, declared his belief "all other American nations" also will ratify the pacts.

His declaration was the highlight of an Associated Press survey among delegations of eight American republics which, as yet, have not ratified all the agreements. The conference is pledged to coordinate them into practical peace machinery.

The agreements are: The 1923 treaty to avoid or prevent conflicts; the supplementary conciliation and arbitration convention of 1929; the Inter-American arbitration treaty of 1929; the Kellogg-Briand treaty, and the Argentine anti-war treaty.

Work Started on Low Garage Here

Contractor Lyman Schoonmaker of Lucas avenue on Monday started the work of getting the former Low garage on Broadway ready as a temporary post office to house the Central post office while the new addition is under construction. The federal post office department recently leased the Low garage for a temporary post office. The post office will use the ground floor and part of the basement and garage. It is expected that the Low garage will be ready for use as a post office so that the post office department may vacate Central post office building the first of the year.

Darball At Redecor. The First Presbyterian Darballers will play the Redecorers at the Redecor church on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

BENEFIT DANCE TO AID FIRE STRICKEN FAMILY

A benefit dance is to be given Friday evening at Olive Bridge I. O. O. F. Hall for a very worthy cause. There will be modern and old fashioned square dancing with good music. Residents of the vicinity expect a large attendance and a collection will be taken up for the benefit of George Trowbridge and family at Krumville.

A few days ago the residence of Mr. Trowbridge was burned to the ground during the night and the members of his family escaped but were unable to remove any of their personal belongings. Several children escaped the flames in their night clothing and practically every possession of the family was lost together with the winter supply of food which had been stored away. There was no insurance.

The plight of the family was responsible for the movement among residents of the Krumville section to put on the dance Friday evening at Olive Bridge.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

Vanishing Railroad

Steuenville, O.—A railroad track apparently isn't safe from thieves these days.

A mile of rails of the Pennsylvania railroad's busy run, O., spur disappeared. Police investigated and arrested three men on charges of ripping up the rails, cutting them into small lengths and selling them as junk.

Good Catch

Pittsburgh—Imagine the embarrassment of Patrolman Carl Steigitz.

He handcuffed the wrist of a suspect to his own arm and then couldn't get loose. He had borrowed the cuffs, but had forgotten to borrow the key.

A city locksmith solved the problem.

Beef Steer

Dallas, Tex.—Federal Agent J. O. Harston saw a suspiciously unsteady cow in a pasture.

He investigated. The cow was drunk. Investigating further he located a whiskey still from which the boisterous bovine had been munching mash. Harston confiscated the still, arrested its owner.

Welcome Back

Pasadena, Calif.—In 1928 Gwynne Allen was arrested for driving at the then illegal speed of 38 miles an hour. Called to Mexico on business he was unable to appear in court.

Returning recently, he sought renewal of his driving license. Records disclosed the old offense. Today Allen paid a $25 fine. The speed limit on the same boulevard now is 45 miles per hour.

It's All Fire Water

Los Angeles—Jack Mokonto, Mission Indian, was hailed into federal court.

Through an interpreter, Mokonto admitted he had been warned not to carry whiskey on a reservation. But, the interpreter pointed out: "He never take whiskey. He say he only take gin. Gin no whiskey."

Retorted Judge Leon R. Yankwich: "Well, this judge, he say gin all same whiskey, so far Indian law concern. Thirty days."

ARDONIA.

Ardonia, Dec. 8.—At the next regular meeting of the Plattkill Grange which will be on December 13. The installation ceremony will be in charge of Ross Osterhout and his staff from Stone Ridge. At this time it is customary to serve an installation supper which the committee in charge are now planning.

Eldred Smith and Eber Palmer attended the Rod and Gun Club meeting in Modena Thursday evening.

Mrs. Peter Rooney of Modena visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ronk Thursday.

Mrs. Ira Hyatt attended the Ladies' Aid meeting at the home of Mrs. Russell Water in Modena Thursday.

The Newburgh Local Union will hold its quarterly rally at the Modena Church Tuesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. All young people are urged to be present.

The annual Christmas program will be presented in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, Wednesday evening, December 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Paltridge recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Eber Smith.

Preston Paltridge of Modena was a caller in town Sunday.

Mrs. Walter Smith and son, George, of New Paltz, were callers in this place Friday.

Summons Parliament

Prime Minister Joseph Lyons of Australia (above) telephoned London several times from Canberra and then announced a special session of the Australian Parliament. Constitutional authorities said that if King Edward VIII should abdicate, Parliament of the dominions would have to legislate for the Duke of York's accession. (Associated Press Photo)

On The Radio Day By Day

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

Time is Eastern Standard.

New York, Dec. 8 (AP).—Dr. Walter Damrosch's weekly Music Appreciation Hour on NBC, which in all the years it has been broadcasting, has confined itself to music recitals, is to undergo a change that will bring about the insertion of dramatic features. This plan is to be started next week. The first half hour will be the usual musical recital, while the second will consist of dramatic features on musical history. For the introductory feature will be the subject.

Previous to his broadcast on WABC-CBS Saturday, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson will be heard Thursday night via WJZ-NBC at 10:45, when he addresses the New York County Lawyers' Association on "Irreversible Force and Immovable Object." He is expected to discuss the supreme court.

A recapitulation shows that the networks have been putting on around nine broadcasts a day from London since the King-Cabinet situation became a world wide front-page. Five of these have been via CBS and the remainder over NBC.

TUNING IN TONIGHT (TUESDAY):

Inter-American Conference—WJZ-NBC 11:15. Edward Tomlinson Interview of Oswaldo Aranha, Brazilian Ambassador to the U. S.
Talks—WJZ-NBC 11:30. John Lee Holt, "The Service of the Federal Council of Churches." WJZ-NBC 10. Roundtable on Highway Safety.

Building Records Of City Should Be Brought Up to Date

City Engineer Norton Recommends Records be Available from a Central Office Instead of Scattered as Present—City Contributed $185,000 to Local WPA—Other Matters Before BPW.

City Engineer James Norton in submitting a report and analysis of building permits issued during the past year in the city, called attention to the fact that the information should be made available from a central office instead of scattered among three city departments as at present. The report was submitted Monday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Public Works, and Mayor C. J. Heiselman, who presided, said that the suggestions contained in the report were worthwhile and that he would call a conference of all three departments later to take up the matter in more detail.

The city engineer announced that to date the city had contributed the sum of $185,000 as its share to the cost of operating the local WPA in Kingston since it began operations.

The board at its last meeting discussed the question of junk dealers in certain sections of the city using the sidewalks to store junk on, and the matter was taken up with Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin who gave a lengthy opinion to the effect that the board had the power and authority to order the junk removed and the sidewalks and streets kept clear, and if the board's orders were not carried out the board could direct the work be done and the charge assessed against the property owner.

The board directed that the superintendent and city engineer call attention of offending junk dealers to the matters with the demand that the walks be cleared at once.

Alderman Connelly of the Ninth ward sent in a communication calling attention to the fact that the rebuilding of West Chester street had been submitted as a WPA project and asking what the status of the project was. (City Engineer Norton stated to the board that the WPA had approved as a project the rebuilding of the street from Broadway to the foot of the hill, but another project taking in the remainder of the street had not been approved yet by the WPA.) The alderman also called attention to the need of a sewer in Summer street and suggesting it be made a WPA project. The matter was referred to the city engineer.

Superintendent David Conway exhibited to the board his plans for taking care of snow removal this winter. The board has leased a heated garage on Teller street and Mr. Conway has prepared a plan whereby the city is laid out in districts and certain snowplows are assigned to each district. The dumping grounds have also been selected and designated and each truck driver will be given a list of streets he is to plow when sent out and the trucks which cart away snow will be told which grounds to take it to. This winter no truck that is not properly equipped with skid chains will be hired by the city, and no truck that has not a capacity of at least a yard and a half will be engaged.

City Engineer Norton's report on building permits reads as follows:

During the year to December 1 a total number of 473 building permits were issued by the Engineering and Fire Departments. Of these only 115 were issued by the Engineering Department.

This difference of 360 between the number of permits issued by the two departments is due in part to the fact that the Engineering Department issues a building permit for new structures only, such as dwellings, garages, warehouses, service stations and additions to old structures. The Fire Department, on the other hand, issues a permit on every type of construction activity, including those mentioned above and also alterations, signs, billboards, gas and oil tanks, roofing, etc.

However, a tabulation of the permits issued by the Fire Department during the year shows that there are 53 permits for dwellings, garages, sheds, service stations, etc., which are not recorded in the Engineering Department.

The procedure of securing a building permit as outlined in the Zoning Ordinance is for the owner to apply to the Engineering Department for application on which is scaled drawing of the lot and structure indicating the dimensions of the proposed construction, distances from property lines, etc. If these details satisfy the requirements of the ordinance, the owner signs an application and a map tracing. The Engineering Department prints two copies of this map, and mails one to the owner and one to the fire chief. After receipt of the application and the blue print the owner applies to the fire chief for the building permit. The fire chief compares the two prints, examines the details of the construction for compliance with the building code, and if satisfactory issues the building permit. At the end of each year the city engineer consults the records of the Engineering Department and compiles a detailed memorandum which is taken as the total of the construction during the year, and which serves as a guide for an inspection in the field. It is evident, then, that the city engineer may easily miss inspection of buildings, especially additions and alterations, which have not been recorded in applications in the Engineering Department, but are listed by the fire chief. About the same time of the year, a survey party should go out in the field and locate all buildings which, according to the records have been constructed during the year. This has not been done since 1929. The information gathered in the field is plotted on the ward maps and assessment maps. The engineer's maps have not been brought up to date for several years.

On the basis of current estimates, the nature of the construction covered by the 51 permits not recorded

Subway A Haven As Planes Bomb Madrid

Terror and destruction are the order of the day in Madrid as insurgent artillery and planes harass the city with bombs and gunfire. Subway stations offer shelter to many citizens while Junta bombardments make a shambles of many streets. Station shown above is in the Sevilla section, and the street scene is on one of the city's main thoroughfares. (Associated Press Photos)

In the City Engineering Department

totals $117,979.00

This total, in turn, might be segregated as follows:

New houses $55,939.00
New garages 7,765.00
Additions to existing structures 37,691.00
Gas stations, dance halls, sheds, etc 16,585.00

$117,979.00

The 309 permits issued by the Fire Department cover classifications of construction which it is not practicable to show on ward or assessment maps are noted below:

Signs, incl. electric $ 5,715.00
Oil tanks and accessories 17,354.00
Repairs 6,560.00
Roofing 16,963.00
Porch construction and enclosures 3,268.00
Alterations, incl. store fronts 36,799.00
Chimneys, gas tanks, etc. 13,963.00

$99,722.00

These tabulations, of course, do not include the construction cost of the new buildings recorded in the city engineer's office. No tabulation of these 119 permits were made.

In addition to the permits granted by these two departments we have permits granted by the plumbing board, new houses 33, alterations, etc., 159, total 192, covering work done in or on the same property covered by these permits and additional improvements not included in either the records of the fire chief, the city engineer, or the board of public works.

The Board of Public Works issues permits for signs over sidewalks, and the fire chief, other electric signs. The Board of Public Works issues permits for plumbers' cuts in pavements, but the interested departments as water and plumbing, are not notified.

The zoning ordinance states that it is "unlawful to use or permit the use of any building or premises or part thereof, erected or converted or altered, either wholly or partly, in its use or structure until a certificate of occupancy shall have been issued by the city engineer." No attempt to comply with or to follow this regulation has been attempted. If this regulation was enforced then the city engineer's department would have a more complete record, and could notify immediately all interested departments.

No bonds are required for large electric signs on buildings, and the city is not protected in any way if one of these, or parts of same, should be thrown into the street by wind or failure of the structure.

From a study of the above data it is apparent that complete and accurate information is not available at any one source, and that due to this condition the public is inconvenienced, the assessor's records are inaccurate and incomplete, and exchange of closely related information between the different departments has not been attempted or at least not been systematized.

In the coming year enough funds should be made available in the various departments to bring this data and these records up to date and some system worked out where this information is compiled and made available from a central office or department.
